Throughout his career at DIA, Kevin has held a variety of impactful roles. As a COMSEC Account Manager in Washington, D.C., he played a critical role in the reorganization of DIA's Central Office of Record (COR) COMSEC structure. He also led training initiatives, educating officers on the rules of COMSEC as part of a traveling training team. Additionally, Kevin served as the DIA CIO Senior Representative for USSOCOM in Tampa, Florida, overseeing all aspects of IT service delivery and ensuring that the organization's IT requirements were met while resolving any performance issues.

Before joining DIA, Kevin had a distinguished 20-year career in the United States Army as an IT Specialist (25B). His military service included leadership roles such as Automations NCOIC at Fort Riley, Kansas, Instructor at the School of Technology at Fort Gordon, Georgia, and Helpdesk Supervisor in Naples, Italy, and Tyrnavos, Greece. In these roles, Kevin was instrumental in analyzing software and hardware constraints to meet user needs, developing and enforcing IT policies, and supervising the preparation of technical studies, evaluations, and reports.

Kevin is passionate about his work, leveraging his extensive experience to ensure that IT systems meet the highest standards of service and efficiency.

Kevin has been married for 15 years and is a proud father of six children.
